Know Before You Go

BEVERLY STUDENTS ARE

he headline says it all. Beverly students are going places. What sets the community at Beverly apart from that of any other high school is not the name but the people. The blending of different cultures along with a unique sense of pride make Beverly Hills High School more than a place for learning.

The facilities of the campus provide an opportunity for students to experience first hand a broad range of activities from athletics to drama and journalism to art. When the Beverly senior graduates, he has been able to obtain extracurricular background in any number of different activities.

Although some students may be sleeping in their period one classes, and teachers may be trying to get stimulated by their third cup of coffee, the school atmosphere becomes more exciting as the day progresses. The challenges of the academic world are endless once inside the halls of the school. Along with the pressures of A.P. and honors courses, the preparation for the college application process begins from day one of the freshman year. This motivation to succeed has brought Beverly graduates fame in the political, economic, and entertainment fields.

As one would do prior to any long journey, there is important information to be discovered before departing. To find out exactly what Beverly Hills High School has to offer one must examine the people and situations of Beverly — Know Before You Go.

CATCH A GLIMPSE OF LOCAL COLOR

n Friday afternoons, the biggest worry was often how the weekend was going to be spent. With so many different people, the one word which all Beverly students could be classified as are teenagers

Assumptions of glamour and prestige are far from the reality of the school. What the Norman does on the weekends is exactly that of any other teenager in America — recover. No doubt, some prepare for the next week's worries, but most students could be found in Westwood, shopping in one of the malls, or trying desperately to maintain their summer tan. Others worked part-time or if nothing else sat in front of the television, tuning into the sounds of MTV.

Ask any second semester senior and he'll tell you the most important aspect of Beverly is the social scene and just plain having fun. On the other hand, catch an overworked second semester junior and you'll get quite a different answer. Whatever the case the diversity of the students provides an ideal opportunity for friendships and growth.

A PLACE TO STUDY AND EXPLORE

uring the workweek, Beverly was a place to learn. Learning about iambic pentameter, balancing equations, or learning about oneself. Students better outside Beverly Hills

Exploring different fields made for an easier transition between the high school and college environment. The challenges of demanding coursework kept students moving in the right direction towards their final destination — graduation

Academics, as in recent years, served as the most valuable asset of Beverly. The educational process provided the first of many steps on the long journey which allowed people to find their individual road to success chool spirit was on the upswing as ASB and athletic activities broke attendance records. Homecoming. Hello Day, Grease, and Albion Street were all popular events.

Whether on or off the field, spirits were high when Beverly's football team tied for first place in its league. Community activities raised financial support for the school district and demonstrated their commitment to maintaining the quality level of education

While the school week was reserved for studying, having a good time on the weekends was high on the list of priorities for most students.

ELECTIVES LEAD IN DIFFERENT DIRECTIONS

different things to different people. Working on a ceramic jar until it reaches perfection, spending countless hours rehearsing for a play, or keeping in shape for next week's game. Whatever the activity, Beverly students faced obstacles which prepared them to rise up and meet new challenges.

Popular electives such as broadcast journalism, computer science and robotics were a blending of modern technological advances and old-fashioned teaching methods. For young politicians, ASB provided an excellent forum for learning the tricks of government

Varied electives helped to serve as a creative outlet, whereby students were able to take advantage of a great freedom for experimentation

GETTING THERE IS HALF THE FUN

s one begins the exciting task of finding out what Beverly is all about, the journey will lead in many different directions. The choices of each student and the results of those decisions will definitely show that Beverly students are going places

If the saying "Getting there is half the fun" holds true, then the other half lies in discovering the satisfaction of achieving ones goals along with the benefits that go along with it.

There is only one Beverly Hills, and only one Beverly Hills High School. The students, faculty, and staff that make up the school are unique as the city, both a one-of-a-kind

The pages that follow should serve as a guide to the voyage which will some day act as a source of inspiration to continue going places.

And the winner is . . . The Class of '87

For the second consecutive time, the Class of '87 proved that they are the top at Hello Day. With a team headed by chief writer Teddy Fern, director Jason Tomarken, and musicians Sam Gabbay, Jordan Fishman, and Abe Askenazi, "We're Seniors, We Don't Need A Title," successfully parodied the film "The Fly"

This time the experiment turned "cool" Sentor Marty, played by Dean Shapiro, into a nerdy Freshman. Cory Freundel. Shocked and distillusioned, Marty's girlfriend, played by Juhe Heimler, sang to him "Don't Stand So Close To Me." Finally everything worked out and Marty, with his peers, graduated singing "Say Goodbye To Beverly" "Our class gave Hello Day everything we had and it

payed off," said lead character Dean Shapiro

The Lenny Award is named in honor of Leonard Uhley, who wrote three award-winning skits. It is now in its 19th year.

Now in its second year, the Michael DeWitt Award is given to one student from each class whom the actors vote as contributing the most to their skit. This year's Michael DeWitt award went to senior Tomarken, junior Kyle Rosen, and sophomore Jody Katz

The sophomore skit, directed by Katz and written by Lieba Faier, Denis Pepp, Andrea Bardack, and Leslie Winnick, told the story of a "Freshman in Wonderland" This twist of the popular children's story featured Jamie Luner as a freshman in love with a football player, Micah Hyman In the end, the audience was left in a cloud of smoke as Alice dreaming or was it real? Director Katz said, "The cast worked very hard and we are looking forward to next year's hopeful win."

With tye-dye shirts and flowers in their hair, the juniors presented their skit "Dare." written by Robert Rich and Adam Wohl This parody of the musical "Hair" brought the audience back to 1985, a time when students were protesting the end of the "Age of Mod 70 Carl

Levin played a new student who was exposed to Beverly by protestor Wendy Warschaw

"Hello Day is a great opportunity to use a lot of different talents and this year was an inspiration for success next year," said Warschaw

ASB advisor Elaine Falk observed, 'Every class put in a lot of effort making this a highly successful and most enjoyable Hello Day '

Beverly's change up rally was a real (boost for school spirit On Thursday, Nov. 13, varsity football players showed the cheerleaders how it's done by performing their own human pyramid on the second floor patio. Varsity football players changed places with cheerleaders and vice-versa. The football players were cheerleading skirts and tops. Members of the spirit squads and the band marched around campus urging students to come see the games

To be in the "Spirit" of things, tons of cheering was heard as the cheerleaders dressed up on Halloween day in costumes ranging from a hockey player to a lion

Two barbecues took place on Oct. 2 and Oct. 17 after home varsity football games and sold out immediately Over 100 hamburgers were served at each event KBEV provided an assortment of music while students waited in line for their hamburgers.

"The barbecues added to the success of the football season," said ASB President Evan Silver Spirit was spread through the fall semester not only at Hello Day, Homecoming, and Club Week, but also with the Halloween grams, Hat Day, and the Classified Christmas Breakfast Party

Students had the opportunity to treat their friends with a Halloween gram for 50 cents each. Students received a lollipop with a special Halloween message from a friend. Over 300 grams were sold

To top off the week of Beverly's 45th annual

Basketball Invitational Tournament, students were their favorite hats at Hat Day, Friday, Dec. 12 One could find students wearing cowboy hats, top hats, straw hats, and various homemade hats

With capacity crowds cheering from the bleachers hundreds of multi-colored balloons were released to light up the sky. This was the beginning of an eagerly anticipated halftime.

Fo prepare for this event, the spirit squads had spent several bours each day these past months practicing their routine of perfectly timed movements. While members of the band played the song "Tequilla drillicam and spirit danced to the pulasting beat

Drill team advisor Daxie Zovak stated. I was really proud of the garls. It was wonderful to see them cam and polish all their movements in a short period of time and to perform them flawlessly. They looked tabulous

The drill team ended its routine with the traditional rendition of the "high kick." In one long line arm in arm, the girls kicked to the famous time. That's Entertainment.

Members of the drift team and flag team welcomed the nominees for the Royal Court by standing on either side of the passing cars. As each car passed, the girls salated the nominees. The nominees were driven in 19 different convertibles. They ranged from classics, such as two Mercedes and a Jaguar, to the present-driven Mustang convertible and ever-popular Volkswagen Cabriolet. No. Correction. This event is called Senior Juntor Night. What can I say except that we are awesome, period¹⁷⁸ exclaimed. Senior Classi President Eric Feigenhaum.

Junior-Senior Night is the annual battle between the two upperclasses. It traditionally takes place in the Swim-Gym

The Senior Class was ahead of the juniors from the first serve in volleyball to the last heave in the boys' Tug-of War

Although the majority of races ended relatively closely, the Class of '87 captured titles in the volleyball tournament, dizzy bat race, toilet paper race, push ball competition, basketball shoot potato sack race, and girls' Tug of War

The juniors, led by Co-Presidents Robert Rich and Jami Rubin, seemed equally spirited

'Spiritually, we won! I feel we had a greater output from our crowd," Rich said

The Class of '88 defeated the Class of '87 in such events as the pantyhose race, the balloon race, the boys' tug-of-war, the wheelbarrow race, and the new McDonald's relay

Organizer of Junior-Senior Night Sophomore Representative, Denise Pepp, stated We thought this race would be really fun Everyone loves McD's and it (the race) is better than last year's pie eating contest

In the McDonalds race, the two participants on each team eat and swallow completely 16 Chicken McNuggets and, then run around the Swim-Gym

> The same process is repeated with one large french fries and one Big Mac

In the boys' tug-of war, the tuntors barely edged the sentors Each class had one win before the Class of '88 finally beat the Class of

87 again, after an arduous struggle

Despite their loss in the above-mentioned final event. Senior Representative Joe Rosen remarked, 'Overall, the juniors gave us a tough battle, but the Senior Class was too much to overcome.'

Said Feigenbaum, "The Class of '87 is the first class ever to win two Hello Days and two Junior Senior Nights in a row!"

HOMECOMING DANCE

Students rock to the beat at annual Homecoming

The blaring music sounded throughout the Swim-Gym Bold colored streamers and balloons decorated the dance floor Bright red and blue lights flashed on and off. The dancing feet shook the floor And the smiling faces showed the good time the students were having.

This was the site of the Homecoming dance held on Nov 7. This dance, which ASB claims was its most successful ever, attracted an excess.

of 1 000 students

This is the best turnout we've had in five years, I've never seen so many students dancing on the dance floor in my entire experience as ASB advisor," said Elaine Faix.

KROQ's Richard Blade, and Video One host, deepayed the dance He played music from hit groups such as. The Bangles, Depeche Mode, Beatles, Monkees, ABC Otis Day and the Nights, Pet Shop Boys, and the B-52 s

However, the music and dancing stopped, and the lights would go on at half hour intervals. This was when Blade would announce the 1986 Homecoming Court

Gabriel Macht and Tasha Singletary represented the freshman class as prince and princess. The sophomores choose Michael Glazer as their prince, and Jody Katz for their princess. The junior court consis ted of Lainie Kartoon for princess and Eyal Gamilel for prince. Senior princess was Gayle Licker and prince was Evan Silver Finally it was time for the students to find out who was to be their King and Queen. Head of last year's court, King Gregg Silver and Queen Leslie Paul, returned to present the winners with their flowers. The winners were Billy Koch and Jenny Krieger.

ASB president Evan Silver stated. "There were many major contributing factors for this dance being so successful. One is, Richard Blade was decjaying Another was the mystique of finding out who won the Homecoming Court. And also the chance to get together with school friends in a non-academic environment.

Blade did not feel that Beverly students live up to the usual negative stereotypes. "If the stereotype is of a group of really nice kids, then yes, its true. Everyone here seems to be really real," he said

However, Blade observed, "The girls do live up to one stereotype. They are cute."

To sum up the overall view of the dance, Silver stated, "This dance will most likely set the standard that the rest of the ASB's should try to achieve."

Clubs offer a myriad of activities, trips to students

What does breyele riding, politics, and medicine have in common?

These are just a few of the activities offered by clubs at Beverly

Fo promote membership in the clubs, the annual club week was held in October

It is the amount of student participation and school spirit that makes the clubs so successful," explained ASB vice-president Nicole White

About 24 clubs and organizations were offered to students. Many of the clubs that have endured the test of time are the tennis, math. French honors Hebrew, Spanish, German, out door adventure, and art clubs.

For numerous years, the Sk Club, sponsored by the Beverly Hills Recreation and Parks Dept, has been one of Beverly's argest organizations. Of the many ski trips planned, the one to Lake Tahoe had the most sign ups. Other outings went to Main moth and Taos, New Mexico.

"One oftabe key reasons for the club's success is that whether a beginner or advanced skier, anyone can become involved," explained president David Samantob

The Medical Club had guest lectures almost every two weeks. Dr. Kalius spoke about the studies of pediatrics, hemotology, oncology, and medical schools Dr Rosenblatt talked with students about his cancer research at UCLA. Also, a UCLA graduate of biochemistry, Kathy Kantardileff, lectured about her studies. Finally, Ronald Zinner, a child psychologist discussed his specialty.

Of the new clubs formed, most were based on political ideals. The Young Republicans Club was organized to increase the political awareness of students. The club teaches students about voting and hopes to direct them towards a political faction

Even a single hair casts its own shadow—was the motto of the Political Idealists Club Students met and discussed their beliefs concerning politics, philosophy and religion. They helped raise 100 lbs of clothing for Ethiopian Jews, and raised money for the homeless and the poor. This non-partisan club hoped to help people become more aware of themselves.

Another non-partisan club at Beverly was Junior Statesman of America.

This organization gave students a feel ins for government participation and modern political issues through conventions and debates. Club members Ricky Chizever and Peter Thodham won speaking awards at a fall convention at the LA Histon on Nov. 22–23. Beverly's clubs offered students a variety of activities geared for a broad range of interests, giving everyone the opportunity to become involved.

Beverly students have traditionally gone to the East Los Angeles school for 46 years, bringing holiday spirit and gifts to the less fortunate children

Following their arrival the students divided into groups for the classroom visits, spending about 15 minutes in a classroom, as each group distributed gifts, sang Christmas carols, and made new friends. Presents in cluded Playdough. Legos, and dolls. The purchasing of the gifts was made possible by a fund raiser directed by ASB representatives.

As soon as the recess bell rang energetic students and children fled to the playground to play such games as handball tether ball, four square, and hopscotch The children, full of energy, even let the Beverly students "take cuts" in line Santa Claus, other wise known as ASB President

Prior to the students arrival the Madrigals performed such songs as The 12 Days of Christ mas" and "Jingle Bells As Madrigal President Cameron Silver said, "We got a real warm response from the kids and they had a lot of fun singing along with us."

Responsible for organizing the visit to Albion Street was senic recordinator Kelly Borns and faculty sponsor Gwen Graham Borns, who was involved with Albion Street for three years and was last year s junior coordinator, had a big responsibility, yet never doubted that the work was worth it

Assistant Principal Ruth Friedman explained the fact that the student participation level has risen considerably over the years. There was such a large turnout this year that the students had to be chosen out of a lottery. This year students in cluded two freshmen, three sophomores, 10 itemors, and 26 seniors along with a few students from Watchtower and Broadcast Journalism. ASB meets every day during sixth period. Silver sits in front of the class and leads the discussions. They talk about matters such as fund raisers, special activities, board meetings, and

Overall fall ASB activities ran smoothly this year. Students needed to participate more in the activities, though. By doing so, students would take an active part in what ASB has to offer," Silver commented

In October, ASB was busy get ting events organized. These included barbecues. Hello Day Halloween Grams, and Home coming

The week of Oct. 27 through Oct. 31 marked "Red R bbon Week "The purpose of this week was to show the students and the community that there is a major problem with drugs. Feachers, administrators, and students all donned red ribbons attached to buttons reading "Just Say NO"

"Red Ribbon Week" brought the community together Everyone agreed that drugs are a problem and kids need help in 'just saying no ' We worked together for a good cause," White observed

After the week was over, the next project for ASB was Homecoming ASB spent many hours deciding on the music, prices for admission, concessions, and decorations

Homecoming was a great success. This was the largest Homecoming dance turnout we've ever had At first we thought we wouldn't have much support from the students with just a DJ. But the tremendous turnout proved that the students have faith in ASB's planning fun and successful activities," stated Silver

"With all this activity going on, ASB had to work very hard. They got things done and they worked extremely well together. I am pleased with the way the events turned out," said Elaine Falk, ASB advisor

Every year selected students from ASB take off a day of school to visit the Albion Street school to celebrate the spirit of Christmas said, "Being Santa Claus is something I really wanted to do, and now I had the chance. It made me feel really good to see how excited the kids got when they saw Santa Claus. Our visit really made their Christmas, and Santa Claus is a vital part of the Christmas spirit."

Dynamic anti-drug speech 'tomatizes' student body avid Toma covered his eyes with a blindfold "For years, everyone was doing this Today I in going to speak your language. This morning I am going to tell you the truth about drugs, baby," Toma told Beverly students on - Toma Day," March 31-

No matter how his anti-drug message got across to students, whether it was through television monitors. in the Little Theater or Swim-Gym, or live in the auditorium. Toma's speech seemed to affect most students as it was powerful and fasting

For close to two and one half hours, the entire student body watched Toms pace back and torth across the auditorium stars sometimes shouting and some times whispering

His message was clear drugs and alcohol mean death and destruction for those who use them. Forserrow is too late to stop

Principal Sol Levine agreed with Toma, saying, "If you think the drug problem isn't a Beverly Hills problem, if you think the problem doesn't affect you because you're bright and articulate, you've got it all wrong

forna asked students what it was about him that was different from the other adults who d warned them against drugs

One student stood up and abouted, "You care about us. You love us!

Toma Day Chairman Joe Rosen said, "Toma got through to a lot of people and hopefully this effect will help them make the right decision.

After Toma's presentation, students went back to classrooms and had a follow-up discussion in which they filled out questionaires and talked through hypothetical situations

That meht, Toma spoke to Beverly parents for another two and one-half hours. His advice to parents > dir virtic over your clin from communicate with them, and use common sense when dealing with

> The day of and the day following Toma's presentation, private counseling was offered by Toma himself, counselors, the Maple Center, and the Opportunity staff and stadents

I was surprised to hear that most of the students who came in to talk with us had personal problems, not drug-related ones. They were either depressed or lonely, felt isolated, or had problems with their parents," said Susan Kelleher Peer Counseling director Recording the Toma presentation. Kelleher stated It was t in istic. He accomplished exactly what we had hoped. He got students to think Toma ended his presentation by saying, "To each and every one of you. Stay well, good luck, God bless you all I love you so can't much!

Beverly goes back in time with a fifties Sock Hop

On Friday, March 13, Beverly went back in time to poodle skirts and cherry cokes, as students rocked around the clock" in the Swim-Gym

The first of its kind, the Sock Hop asmed at promoting the Spring musical, "Grease" The combined et forts of both ASB and the Performing Arts Department was also a first. Assistant Principal Bon Bushman said, "It's very unique to have ASB and Performing Arts coordinating together.

On the day of the dance, spirned students dressed '50s style and a costume contest was held on the second floor patio, award ing $10 gift certificates to Tower Records for the two best-dressed students. Spirited Juniors Nina Weber and Valerie Morg in wonthe contest. A pep rally also took place at lunch in which cast members of "Grease" promoted the dance and the production

Co-chairman Matt Feinstein said of the dance. "We were not in it to make a profit we just wanted to break even and have a good time " Consequently, the dance broke more than even, with a turnout of 350 students

The 50s feeling was alive in the Swim-Gym as turquoise, pink, and yellow balloons created a bright atmosphere. Posters of such '50s greats as James Dean, Marilyn Monroe, and Elvis Presley decorated the walls. The concession stand, decorated with graffiti, featured popcorn, cherry coke, and rootbeer

I wasting and shouting, students danced to the music of such greats as The Supremes, Elvis Presley and The Tempiations. Music was provided by Bill Loveless and Manny Panchanko, two deepays from KRI A

As co-charperson Susan Rosen said KRLA is the top '50s station of the city

Promoting the musical the cast members of

Grease" did two routines Summer Nights and "We Go Together

Cast member Jami Rubin said, "It was a lot of fun seein, how everyone reacted to our performance and it seems like 'Grease' is going to be a big success."

Throughout the evening, various activities took place such as limbo contest, contributing to the authoriticity of a 50s Sock Hop. The winners of this contest, also receiving $10 gift certificates to Tower Records, were sophomores Jennifer Rhinestein. Sarah Levy, and Zuri

Joe Rosen senior representative said, "We succeeded in the promotion of 'Grease' and we hope the musical is as successful as the dance was

It was very nostalgic. I had fun reliving on teenage years—said ASB advisor Elaine Falk.

The Fab Fifties are back!

Pink Cadiliacs with tail fins, turquoise T-Birds with a spare tire, and the ever-popular Edsel Crinolines, bowling shirts, bomber jackets and Keds Elvis, Ben E. King Jerry Lee Lewis and Buddy Holly "Leave It To Beaver — Ozzy and Harrist" "The Honeymooners" and —I Love Lucy "These entities are all trademarks of the 50s era

By taking a walk down Melrose Avenue in West Hollywood, one can see all the vintage clothing, cars furniture and accessories being sold.

Lexi Holz, a junior at Beverly, owns a '57 T-Bird.' I wanted a pink car and I thought the only normal cars from the '50s were the '57 T Birds. I think the cars from the '50s are more unique.

In the past year, films that were set in the '50s such as Pergy Sue Got Married' and "Stand By Me not only had genuine locations and costumes, but the pusic also featured hits from the 50s

In the '80s, Madonna's new trace is very similar to that of Marilyn Monroe of the '50s. In her first music video. Material Girl. Madonna wore a Monroe gown and danced in a set from. How to Marry A Millionaire," a film featuring Mooroe James Dean is another popular teen idol that teenaged girls still swoon over

On television, there has been a revived interest in 50s TV shows. Some characters, such as the Beaver have become so popular, their faces can be seen on buttons, posters and T shirts.

The Beverly Performing Arts Department chose to present "Grease," a popular musical comedy set at a high school during the '50s era, as the Spring Musical Science teacher Adrian Bal said. "The kids from the 50s are very similar to the ones today. They reprosperous directed, have definite goals and are success oriented. They were very down to earth

Laurel Spellman, a Beverly senior, added. 'The 50s were very carefree. There were few wornes, and it was just a fun time period.

The most evident revival is in the renewed popularity of '50s style cafes. Larry Parker's is a '50s diner in Beverly Hills. The coffee shop was first built in 1947 and it still has the same interior. Both the atmosphere and menu are remaniscent of the era. It includes creams mes, hamburgers, shakes, cherry cokes and eag creams

Business is up 50% due to the '50 revival stated Larry Parker

Another 50s cafe is Johnny Rockets on Melrose There they serve burgers, fries and cokes and have mini jukeboxes at the counters. Other fast food place are treating customers to service by roller skating carbops.

These burger joints are probably visited more for the atmosphere than for the food

"When I go out with my friends to have a good time we usually go to Johnny Rockets. At the counters we sing along with the music and talk to people sitting hear us. The atmosphere is just real comfortable and fun," said senior Valerie Sobel

Though all this '50s nostalgia brings back memories for parents, to their children growing up in the '80s it's new. Who knows, maybe in the year 2010, there will be a '70s revival. And people will again wear bell bottoms and Korkees, and rock to disco music. But, let's hope not

Stage crew of 'Grease' works behind the scenes

Most people who saw "Grease—the Spring Musical, probably warehed the dancers dance the singers sing, and the actors and actresses act. But what they didn't see was, dl the hard work that went on behind the scenes before and during the show.

Grease' could not have been as successful without the long hours that the technes put into the show," explained theater technician David Mefford

Techies consist of students of the Stage Design and Production Class and members of the east of "Grease" Under the direction of Melford, approximately 30 members dedicated their time to working on the production Set director Dara Nunn said. By being in stage crew. I see the amount of work that goes on backstage.

She added Compared to Peter Pan' last year the set for Grease' is much smaller and much easier to work with

Assistant stage manager Sarah

Tomassi said, "We have so much more space back stage as opposed to last year

Only 10 students were running crew members who work behind the scenes during the show and operate the pulhes, sets, lights, curtains, and props

The sets for "Grease" were rented from the San Bernardino Civic Light Opera and according to Metford, cost one half of what "Peter Pan" cost They ranged from a burger palace to the Rydell High School gym to the beach to Kenickie's car

The crew members worked long and hard in order to put the sets together in one afternoon. They were led by stage manager Robert Mestman and assistant Tomassa, student director Jake Freydont Attie and assistant Kevin Krusne, set director Nunn and assistant Ariel Benarroch, and ensuine designer Nicole Smith.

Designing so many costumes is a very time consuming of buddlee a great sense of accomplishment doing to stated Smith

Mefford found it very enjoyable working with the students backstage

He explained, "It is very rewarding to work so hard behind the scenes and see it pay off when Grease is finally performed.

Spanish Tour guide

Fast talking brings adventures in Spain

And across the Atlantic Ocean he went. During this past summer, Dean Shapiro was a tour guide for the International Studies Abroad Program in Spain. Students and faculty both staved in dorms at the University of Madial.

"This summer was not only rewarding, but it was also challenging It was great to see other people have the same appreciation for Spanish artwork as I have," Shapiro added

Shapiro was responsible for leading a group of 18 students through the extensive Prado Museum. The challenging part of the trip came from the fact that Shapiro has only been speaking Spanish for 2 years.

White students took courses on the language, guides, such as Shapiro, were required to take classes on Spanish literature and geography

"I had so much tun this past summer that I would definitely recommend this program to anyone with a sense of adventure and a love for Spanish." Shapiro summed up

Junior speed racer skis up to the top

Jumor Adam Gooch is presently a down hill ski racer with the Mammoth Ski Club Gooch has been skiing for seven years, but he has been racing seriously for only three years.

Being part of the ski club means working hard and putting in extra time. Since Gooch is in this club he gets special opportunities, one of which was a chance to be on the Junior Olympic team. Unfortunately, he did not get a chance to participate because of illness.

Gooch has tripled his racing results since he joined the team. He started off being ranked 360 in the nation for his age group and in only three years he has moved up to hold a position in the 30s. In 1986 Gooch won the "most improved" award out of the entire team

"Winning the award was a big honor for me. All of the other members live in Mammoth so they have the advantage over me, yet sometimes they take it for granted and they might not work as hard," said Gooch. Because of Gooch's tremendous results, Atomic Ski Wear sponsors his training.

Young writer has future in TV world

Have you ever wondered how a television show is put together? Just ask Robert Rich

"It's not easy (to put a show together)," said Rich, Over the summer, Rich worked as a production assistant at Paramount Studios

"I basically was what you could call a runner, but I learned so much about the industry." Rich explains. He learned how to work on a television show and found it tascinating. Rich worked on the television show. "Mac Gyver."

"I was interested in the way the show uses the mind over violence." he said "Mac Gyver" eleverly thinks of a way to escape a situation as opposed to using violence

He has presented some ideas to the producers and is currently in the process of writing a script with another fellow production assistant, in addition to being the author of this year's Hello Day script

Rich was hired for the school year and will work in the summer, too Who knows, the next episode of "Mac Gyver" could be the one Robert Rich wrote

Foreign Adventure

Japanese life style is shocking change

Aka-Puchi is the name of a high school in Japan. Sophomore Jeremy Kahn spent the first half of his freshman year in Japan as a student of the School Exchange Service

Kahn noted, "After spending a year in a foreign country, one really gets a sense of the culture "

Kahn had to become accustomed to wearing slippers on school grounds, abiding by strict school rules, and following scheduled study sessions On the other hand, Kahn found that Japan to becoming more Westernized

They are not only familiar with American music groups, but they also give their own music groups American names, For example, "Boyir Man" is a very popular Japanese. rock group "

While Kahn only spoke a little Japanese before his trip, he was still required to take the same classes as a native Japanese literature,language lab (in which Kahn tutored English) and geometry.

Kahn had some final words for anyone interested in studying abroad "Go, definitely go"

Varsity team star

Freshman champion scores top on court

Hard work is the key to success. For Courtney Rose this can be considered an understatement

Being the only freshman to make the varsity tennis team this year and playing No. 1 are just a few of her credentials

"In general it is very difticult for a freshman to make the varsity team during the freshman year," said Coach Susan Stevens "Courtney has been a wonderful addition to the team."

Rose placed 12th in the National Indoor Tournament in Detroit and she also made it to the finals of the Girls' USTA Tournament in Anaheim

In the 1985-1986 season she ranked 20th in the nation in the 14-and-under age division as well as being ranked 12th in Southern California

Rose says her "main goal is to be No. I in California and in the nation." Since last year she has moved up and held the number 10 position in the region, "In the future I hope to play professional tennis." Rose remarked.

Rose said, "I think this was a good year for the entire team. I also did well in individual competition." She has a difficult goal to achieve yet at the rate she is going it shouldn't be too long.

Students seek out the latest hot spots

Nowhere to go? Nothing to do? Nowhere to it? Students are always complaining that there is nothing to do in LA. But, if one really thinks about it, there is plenty to do especially eat.

Ever-popular restaurants, such as Islands. The Cheesecake Factory, and Flakey Jakes, confinued to attract the teenage crowd. Also, students could grab a quick bite to eat at fast-food restaurants and drive thrus, such as Carl's Jr., McDonalds, Jack in the Box, and Taco Bell.

One of the newest dining trends was that of ajun and Creole cuisine. Restaurants such as Patout's or The Ritz that specialized in this Louisiana regional cuisine made popular such inusual dishes as blackened fish, chicken Lizzy tuited quail, and spicy shrimp creole. Japanese sushi moved over for the more popular Thai cuisine, but on the whole, diners were leaning to ward something a little less exotic. More and nore, people were going out for home cooking As paradoxical as it sounds, people went to restaurants such as Yanks or to '50s style diners and offee shops to eat good of American food macaroni and cheese, chicken pot pie, BBQ ribs and even meathout

After wining and dining, it's time for dessert low about Penguin's, Fantasia, or Heidi's's trozen yogurt was the year's low-calorie and iw fat answer to rich ice creams and Gelato. It's delictious whether eaten "au natural" or smothered in cookie crumbs, candies fresh fruit or sauces. Too cold for frozen yogurt? People could go to Mrs. Fields for fresh, hot chocolate chip cookies; or to The Muffin Oven or All My Muffins to bite into a jumbo muffin packed with berries fruits, nuts, and even vegetables. Sounds tempting — but too fattening? Try a water bar. The trendy water bar in Beverly Hills offered an exclusive selection of over 100 brands of international bottled waters, including the popular pure. Hawaiian salt-free sparkling.

With such a huge selection of different foods how could people enjoy it all and keep their figures? Working out was still a major focus of the year. Memberships at health clubs, such as Family Fitness Center or Sports Connection offered opportunities to burn some catories and energy playing racquetball or using machines. Those less inclined to sweat could take advantage of the facilities to eat healthy snacks, meet friends or people watch

After all that hard work, how could people show off that new physique? What better way than in new clothes. The trendiest stores in cluded Champs, Anne Klein, MGA, and Fred Segal. For convenience in shopping, one could go to various malls such as the Beverly Center.

the Westside Pavillion, and Century City and find many clothing stores as well as restaurants

All dressed up, but no place to go? Students continued to flock to Melrose Avenue and West wood to shop, eat, and buy records. If the records in Tower or Penny Lane weren't to the student's liking, he could record his own song at Recording Star in Westwood. He could sing to such tunes as those of Whitney Houston, Lionel Richie, the Beach Boys, Phil Collins, or Peter Gabriel. For $11.95, one could go into a sound proof recording studio, put on headphones, and sing and record his own voice in lieu of that of the professional singer.

Students could listen to music and watch lights at the Laserium in the Griffith Park Observatory. Music by such groups as Pink Floyd, the Police, and Van Halen were played For their viewing pleasure, students could rent video tapes at Tower Video of the Wherehouse and relax at home

Don't want to relax at home? Try ice-skating at the Culver City Ice Rink. From 8 00 p m 10 30 p m or from 11 p m -1 a m emoy ice skating or just sit in the coffee shop

Los Angeles is not such a boring place after all. There are many places to go and things to do. So, stop complaining and go out and have some fun.

Style prevails over new fashion trends

Tashion is always changing and each year provided is it comfort and agility marks the arrival and departure of numerous fashion trends. Let's venture back to September. to examine this year's fashion trends.

To begin with, the new school year introduced us to two new styles of jackets. The Iringed jackets and the large leather pilot jackets were seen regularly throughout the year. Coinciden tilly both styles originated awhile before the tackets, critiated as a Beverly phenomenon. Fringed jackets were sported by groups such as The Alarm and Simple Minds, while the movie "Top Gun" introduced the patch covered pilot pickets. Accompanying the arrival of the pickets was a new line of shirts that resembled the old-Ton Sur Ton line. These shirts came in several colors (primarily pastely) and contained unusual phrases such as 11 Your " Along with these shirts, over sized sweaters of many colors and styles remained to be extremely trendy. Finally, to complete the outfit, a new type of pants emerged These pants were unique in that they possess a eroich that descends almost to the floor. Wiwere informed by many students that these pants

Shoes also play a vital role in the Beverts dress code. Leather boots, primarily fringed leather boots, were quite a hit this year. Girls enjoyed wearing them with anything from pants to shorts. This year proved to be the year of pointed shoes. The pointed shoes fetish actually emerged from more non-conforming groups of people (mods, punks, gothics, etc.) who purchased their shoes from stores on Melrose. However, copies of these shoes were being sold by mally everywhere thus making them "hot" in the tastion world. Homor ous, uplaced high tops is also re-emerged as a fashion sensation resulting from the popularity of rap music celebraties Run DMC and those darling little Beastre Boys

As well as shoes, each new school year never fails to bring new items from the wonderful world of accessories. The accessory that has probably been the biggest success is the hair how. Another trendy accessory was those smallleather purses that were worn across the body One student claimed that those purses are very convenient. "They enable me to carry a few things without having to schlep a large purseshe said. This idea seemed to affect guys, who believed that wearing their book bags across their chests was the macho fluing to do

Spensor of macho images, Don Johnson and the ewith his stubbly appearance. On an average day, one could eaten a glimpse of at least a few guys with a five o clock shadow at twelve noon. Was it laziness of frendiness? Guys aren't the only ones who have acquired a new look, girls have also undergone a drastic change in appearance this past year. The style this year has been long hair and less make up as opposed to shorter hair and heavy make up-

That was where the 1986-87 year in fashion ended. Of course, this has also been a year of individuality as well as trendmess. Every school needs its eccentric people to add a special touch. Beverly's individuality can be seen through various groups such as mods, punks, skins gothics and many more. It goes without saying that fashion is always present in many different ways and it always will be!

Over the past 60 years. Beverly has grown from a student body of 325 students in a building surrounded by grass fields and dut roads, to a student population of more than 2,000 in what has possibly become the most romanticized city in the nation

When Beverly Hills High School first opened its doors in 1927, Calvin Coolidge was president and prohibition was in effect, whereas today Republican Ronald Reagan is president and the students' conservative ideas are present. In 1987, the 60th anniversary of Beverly's opening, we are able to look back and see the noticeable differences.

Practicing weekly during the late 1920s and 1930s the Beverly Hills High Bowling League participated in matches. The oil well issue was a big deal, considering the Board received royalties which averaged about $500 a month. The boys and girls gymnasiums were built because the Los Angeles Board of Education approved a plan for improvements to the extent of $150,000. In 1931, the enrollment of the school almost doubled to 1,800 students.

During the 40s, many Beverly students rushed to the aid of people in need during World War II Several school organizations helped war orphans. The Girls' Athletic Association collected a dime a month from its members to send food, clothing and toys to a European orphan while the Home Economic Club sent five French orphans monthly boxes of food and clothes. As it expanded in its social consciousness, Beverly also expanded its territory by buying six acres of land west of Heath Avenue. The land was to be used as a parking for, six tennis courts, a lunch area and a location for agricultural studies.

'Rock Around the Clock' was the 1950s mottobut did Beverly students partake in any fun, social activities? In 1951 students fought to prevent the closing down of the Norm Inn, a recreation room sponsored by an adult advisory board. Activities such as Janees and movies were held regularly. Shutting it down was not an easy thing to do, but school officials proceeded with its closing due to lack of funds. The yester years of the Beatles, the Monkees, and maniskerts are history, but those of us at Beverly can not forget the opening of the Business Education Building. This is where students were able to learn the essentials of typing, computers and business skills. A political organization started by Beverly students called USF (United Students For Freedom) was established in 1968. The purpose of this group was to show the American people that there were students who wish to find a better way to deal with hard times by hard work and no violence.

During the implementation of the new bell schedule called Mod-70, students were feeling "groovy Why? Students had free mods and double mod classes It was not strange to find students sitting on the patio during their free mods stringing love beads. The Board approved $8,500 in funds for the purchase of equipment for Beverly's newly formed radio station. The station was first broadcast in the cafeteria and patios. LSD and manjuana were both trends in 1967-1973 at Beverly, and the usage of these drugs was higher than in most other high schools. In 1975, the students' drug usage decreased tremendously.

As we live through the '80s we can still see controversial issues. A new bell schedule has been implemented called Project-85. This program took away the freedom of free mods and double mods. Students go to classes which are held for 50 minutes everyday. Drastic cuts and changes have been made this past year due to lack of funds. Deficit spending was a familiar term with both the president of the United States and Beverly High. The Board had to send out layoff notices to the newest leachers and teachers of cut classes.

Perhaps the people most aware of the changes through the years are those peolpe who have been at Beverly since earlier years.

Assistant Principal Ruth Friedman retired this year after having been at Beverly for 21 years. When she accepted the position as school dean in 1965, this school was very different. Friedman remembers the separation of the girls from the boys. The school das was a traditional six period day with a mandatory dress code.

"In those days I knew students by sight. The big difference about kids from the '60s and today is that the students today are more relaxed. Today, students have come to a happy medium, they are interested to achieving for themselves as well as for their community, added Friedman.

Science teacher Adrian Bal, who has taught the oncest in the district, sees a resemblance between the student of the 80s and the 50s. He said, "Teenager of today seem to be more concerned with grades and the compared to the "laid back" attitude attitude of the 60s generation."

Reflecting back on his high school days, Perform ing Arts Chairman Joel Pressman remembers when he himself was a student at Beverly. He recalls sittle to a Latin class while watching Twentieth Century For film a Western in their lot behind Heath Avenue, just outside the window.

Depression, professionalism, rebellion, and Beatlemania have all filled the crowded hallways with a different variety each year. Students of today might not realize that what they do in their years at high school will be remembered, but it is quite the contrary. Future students will look back on our time as a different atmosphere from what they will know

"As colleges contintheir choice."

Legis not all full and guine.

Continuously raise their standards of admisife is not all fun and games. As colleges new policies they enacted school of their choice

Beginning this year, the state has mandated certain requirements for each academic department. Beverly students can be found working hard in history, math, physical education, English, science, or foreign language

ENGLISH

The students piled into their period four English class prepared to take their essay test. Yet, the topic seemed more narrow and descriptive and the students were forced to think about the

This emphasis on thinking was exactly what the English Department, headed by chairman Roberta Beatty, intended as it took on a new style of education this year

Beatty stated that the department was "revising the writing problems to reflect the UC tests and State of California exams."

The essay exams have changed from broad topics to more descriptive problems designed to perfect the student's thinking ability

The Hart Law and sophomore proficiency exams changed accordingly

"The Hart Law topic is more autobiographical and the sophomore competency test is based on a controversial issue," Beatty explained

Earlier in the year, the department faced a tragedy with the death of David Cowan. An excellent and patient teacher, "he was everybody's friend," said Beatty

Nancy Boraz replaced Cowan

Student X was panting as he looked up at his teacher who smiled and said, "Three more to go." Although many students feel that the track is their enemy, they take advantage of the wide variety of programs offered by the PE Department

Education Department, spoke of some of the with an air of confidence

"If a student is well enough to go to school, sion, students must work harder to attend the he's well enough to stretch and participate in modified activity," Leeds stated

> Also included in the new policies is the fact that unexcused absences may not be made up Students must also be present two-thirds of the time, regardless of excuse, to pass the class

> This year, Beverly's athletic program has been chosen by the state to act as a model for other districts

> "We are involved in what is called a comprehensive health education program and we act as a role model for other schools." Leeds explained

> Alix Plum replaced Margaret McFadden in the PE department

MATHEMATICS

Question. $17-(-2) = 15^{\circ}$ If one answered yes to the above problem, he or she should spend more time in the Mathematics Department

Headed by Larry Stees, the Math Department has also been affected by the new state require-

"Due to the new state math framework, we are starting to use concrete materials or manipulatives to introduce concepts," Stees stated

This new process was implemented to help students obtain a better visual understanding of an idea as opposed to memorization

This new process of education was most noticeable in AAT and Pre-Algebra, Pre-Algebra will be renamed Math A and it will be followed by Math B beginning next year. The use of computers was also introduced this year in AAT

When speaking of departmental changes, Stees also explained that they were in the process of "rewriting the placement standards so as not to misplace an unprepared student."

Few teachers came or went this year in the Math Department. Lisa Craig left on sabbatical and her temporary replacement is Val Lodholm

Hopefully, this new system will prove successful Margaret Leeds, chairman of the Physical and students will be able to say "17-(-2) = 19"

State renews emphasis excellence in Academics

FORFIGN LANGUAGE

Frefiero estudiar el español" is what one Beverly student might be heard saying Translated, his statement, "I prefer to study Spanish," is not the only opinion expressed by students. Be it Latin, French, Hebrew, German or Spanish, the Foreign Language Department has the right stuff.

Dr. Alan Weiner, chairman of the department, described the changes the department taked earlier this year.

"We are putting a greater emphasis on communication skills in both speaking and writing." Weiner said

He added that although this had been a policy before, it was now "an official step taken by the state."

But, do the students actually come to master the languages that they study?

Their abilities were shown off at the Harvard Speak-Off, a competition between all the major languages except Hebrew

Beverly students were led by Lynne Shapiro, a Spanish teacher at Beverly. Competing only in Spanish, they took first, second, and third places from the many private and public schools involved

Sanford Jacquard, a "long standing" French teacher, joined the guidance depart ment as a counselor Pamela Klein, an experienced teacher, has joined the Foreign Language staff

SOCIAL STUDIES

Student X stared at his final essay exam in his history class

The Social Studies Department shifted to an emphasis on basics," said chairman Richard Douglas as a result of new state requirements

Douglas described a "more structured curriculum which has been changing." Included in the changes are the introduction of an A.P. Political Science class this year, a required semester of economics for seniors beginning for the class of 1988, and the fact that A.P. European History was offered to sophomores for the first time last year.

Proud of the department's honors and A P programs at Beverly. Douglas stated that there was an "emphasis on concentration or critical thinking skills."

Herbert Dodge and Mickey Freedman left on sabbatical and were replaced by Stuart Horowitz and Lefand Sandler, respectively. The depart ment also suffered with the passing of David Cowan

Student X finished his essay, turned it in, and breathed a sigh of relief. He then went and picked up his next homework assignment

SCIENCE

The Science Department was not structurally changed by the new state mandated requirements. It gave the department "a chance to clean up a couple of things," said chairman David Knowlton.

knowlton replaced Ed Smith as department head this year as the latter suffered a stroke. Other departmental shifts included the addition of two experienced leachers. Effen Ebert joined the staff as a chemistry teacher and Linda Lozes now teaches health education.

The only major structural change in the department was the revision of the Unified Science Program

The sophomore class now was offered Biology Honors instead of a semester of chemistry and a semester of physics. I ie fresh man biology program has been changed to Introduction to Physical Science.

Knowlton added that the Science Department was no longer worried about teaching earth sciences

Knowlton concluded by saving that the Science Department was "consistent and just mushing along"

Hopefully, the departments, the teachers, and the students are mushing successfully in the right

"Competing only in Spanish, Beverly students took tirst, second, and third places in the Harvard-Speak Off."

Students display interest in high school electives

The electives at Beverly continued to provide students with enjoyment as well as education as they have in the past. About two-thirds of the student body participated in either the Art, Technical Art, or Business Education Department

Over 650 students took part in the classes provided by the Art Department, headed by Lyle Suter This area included such courses as cartooning, life draw ing, Studio Art AP, and ceramics

The art teachers are trying to create artistic judgment within the students, to develop taste and become more discriminating said Suter. "We are continuing with the best art program there is We have always produced winners in the art contests and will continue to do so he added

According to Suter, artistic tal ent will stay with a student for ever. "It is something for enjoy ment that will please you and last a lifetime

The Technical Art Department entolled over 600 students in classes including architecture, graphic arts, electronics, creative woods, stained glass, photography journalism, and Watchtower. It was also the second year in which the robotics class built their own robots as well as learned about the future and technology

Technology is growing rapidly and our classes provide the students with knowledge for the future

said Frank Mahan chairman of the Technical Art Department

Approximately 350 students participated in the classes provided by the Business Education Depart ment. Headed by Carol Yacht, the department offered 16 classes for students interested in business. Among these were Introduction to Management, Keyboarding/Word Processing. Speedwriting formerly ABC Shorthand, Money Management Computer Ac-

New to the department were 21 IBM personal computers, two color IBM computers, and 30 Panasonic electronic typewriters, all which were considered a great asset for teaching In addition John Weilmaker teacher of Money Management created the Investment Club, an opportunity for students to become involved in business. This year, a new class, keyboarding, was introduced. "It's really a typing class, except it's more computerized said Yacht. Finally, the

Highlights editors: Tabora and Zimmerman

Becoming editor-in-chief of Highlights is a distant dream for some Beverly freshmen. It did come true for first semester editor David Zimmerman, and second semester editor Alyssa.

Zimmerman was editor as a junior. He is one of the few people that have been editor-in-chief as a first semester juntor, but Zimmerman feels it wasn't as difficult as one might expect. "It worked out nicely. The second semester of junior year, you have term papers and first semester of senior year you have college applications. First semester is easier." he said labora on the other hand, was editor as a second semester senior. While other seniors were out having fun, Tabora worked in Room 253, or was off to UCLA to take copy to the type

"Highlights is an excellent newspaper, I'm glad I was a part of it and the staff did an excellent job." Zimmerman said

Activities are 'Highlighted' by the school newspaper

Has anyone ever wondered how the newspaper 'Highlights' got its name? Well, according to the 1929 Watchtower, "High came from the hill apon which the high school is situated and the high ideals for which they stand. Lights stands for the illuminating influence of education

The tradition of Highlights is carried out by each editor in-chief. The editors who had the responsibility of producing a weekly newspaper were David

Zimmerman (first semester) and Alvssa Tahora (second semes

Their job included overseeing the assigning of stories, editing stories, driving to UCLA to drop off and pick up the stories for typesetting, and directing the camera-ready paste-up for the printer. What does it take to be an edstor* You need tolerance* said Tabora. Gil Chesterton has been advisor of Highlights since 1970 When you produce a weekly newspaper, the pressure is always on " he said

Highlights has won many awards for its writing talents. They have won first place in the LA County On Spot Write Off 13 times in the last 16 years The newspaper has won an All-American award every year since 1970. I am very proud of them. It means they put out a good paper and write well consistently. Chesterton said

Samaotha Klier Hilary Okun, Alexandra Marchevsky Sally Shultheiss Karen Alexander, Venessa McClendon, Darren Seiden, Matt Roberts, Steven Lotwin Tony Mayorkas, Tabora and Zimmerman served as page editors during the year. > I never thought about editor in chief until this year. It's a lot of limand a great experience," said editor Libora, Zimmerman also said, "It was a lot of work but tun and rewarding

Being on Highlights has many pressures. Getting stories and pictures in by the dead a were a few that Chesterton mentioned

Watchtower 'going places' with yearbook production

"The staff worked

A Beverly Hills High School yearbook does not just appear at the end of a school year. Hard work, time and a whole lot of fun, not to mention sweat, is used to incorporate a year's worth of activities, education and students into one book.

This year Carl Levin and Valerie Sobel led their staff in creating a yearbook consisting of 356 pages. This was the largest yearbook ever published in Beverly Hills High School's history. Overlooking the entire production was advisor Gil-Chesterton

We have a lot of expenence on our staff this year. Even our section editors are highly trained," stated Chesterton

Without the help of the section editors, the yearbook would be difficult to complete. A section editor is a person who is responsible for training and looking over their staff while being instructed by the two editors. Seven of the staff members served as section editors. Leslie Adelman, academics editor.

Bonnic Brooks, classes editor, Ricky Chizever, business editor; Heran Hong and Kim Shephard, sports editors; Lara Pepp, activities editor; and Scott Pollack, photo editor

During the summer months and the school year, the editors have attended various conventions to learn different yearbook techniques. These students were given the chance to talk to other staff members of different schools to seek new ideas for the yearbook.

Going Places. No, the yearbook staff was not lucky enough to travel during their Watchtower class, but rather incorporated the theme of going places" into the yearbook.

Going Places was chosen because of its double meaning On the one hand, the idea of travel is involved. Graphically, travel is an excellent way to entice the reader into reading and looking at the yearbook. On the other hand Beverly High is really a school of kids 'going places' in life," stated Sobel.

A yearbook is a very expensive book to publish. A great amount of the income comes from the sales of the yearbook. The second major part comes from advertising.

Chesterton observed, "One thing I am proud of is that we pay our own way. We have never had to ask for mones

This past year has been the most successful, allaround year!" said Levin. "The staff worked well together and Valene and I feel we have accomplished our goal to make the best yearbook possible," added Levin

By the end of high school few stadents have definite career plans for the future. However, one student, leff Gitlin, knows precisely what profession he wants to break into. This is the field of media.

Githin, a junior who has worked in the media department for three years, directed seven television shows this year, including the "Norman Newsetvice." He also produced Beverly's live television coverage of home football games

I want to work in radio, television, and film, but my main goal is to become executive producer of NBC Sports," said Giffin

Teen Problems? Volunteers lend an ear

Teenagers face a barrage of anxieties and pressures

Fortunately, for those who need someone to talk to, there is Teen Line. For thousands of troubled youths, 855 HOPE has been a helpful option.

The program, headed by Dr. Elaine Leader, PhD., has been in operation for five and a half years and has received over 40,000 calls

'We receive all types of calls and the problems range from relationships to rape," Leader said

Jonah Borns, a junior at Beverly and a volunteer on the line, stated, "It is a rewarding experience to help people and well worth the extra time."

Teen Line is an extremely large commitment as students work from 6-10 pm once a week and must attend two meetings a month. The non-profit organization is also highly selective and members must pass a rigorous eight week training period

So, for students who feel weighed down by problems, help is only a phone call away

Peer Counseling: Kelleher joins program

It was once said that "nothing is permanent except change

This year the Beverly Hills High School Peer Counseling Program underwent changes Besides new Opportunity aides, a new director to the program was hired. Susan Kelleher replaced Dr. Judy Warren, who became a counselor, and organized this year's staff into a group of peer counselors

Kelleher, who previously worked in the ROP and College Career Center, enjoys her new post

"I have seen how peer counseling is beneficial. When both the counselor and counselee are interested in change, the process works beautifully," said Kelleher

A new name for the service was stressed this year instead of the word "Opportunity

"The name Beverly Hills High School Peer Counseling Program was stressed because this name explains exactly what the program in volves," Kelleher expressed. "I feel this program will enable me to have a greater under standing towards students and will be beneficial for me as parent when my children are teens,1 added Kelleher

Teens receive counseling through peer program

OPPORTUNITY

"I get satisfaction out

Remember your first day at Beverly Hills High School? To some new students the feelings of loneliness or newness is overwhelming. Many feel ings or emotions are felt when changes! stress or problems occur in a your radult white. But where can students go to receive the "opportunity" to be counseled for their problems?

Room 109 is the place to go. The lance Opportunity has been heard throughout the school, but what exactly is it? It is another name of the Beverly Hills High School Peer Counseling Program Jirected by Susan Kelleher, Kelleher, who is new to the Opportunity programthis year, replaced Dr. Judy Warren This program is in association with the Maple Center's staff of Marty Nislick, Stan-Katz, and Harold Young, who helped train the peer counselors.

This program was offered every day, periods three to seven and during lunch. With trained peer counselors working with students, many students were able to discuss their feelings towards many subjects they normally could not talk about. Along with peer counseling, the opportunity aides were also able to tutor students if they needed it. Students are either referred to Opportunity by a counselor teacher or self

Senior Camilla Grozian commented. I like Opportunity because it not only gives kids a chance to speak of their personal feelings or academic problems, but it gives us a chance to learn about our

These peer counselors were Beverly students who were trained extensively every Tuesday night for an hour-and-a-half along with lectures during unchanne. Twenty-seven seniors and juntors were

> The students were first introduced on a weekend retreat at Hillton Camp, where they underwent in tense training which involved their personal fives

The weekend retreat was fun and was a good chance to meet the people in a different context," admitted Rena Dorph

Out of this program usually comes a great deal of accomplishment. The counselors have helped students achieve better grades and feel better about

These programs all were under the direction of Richard Farmer. He started the jazz band eight years ago. First they practiced at lunch and then it became a class seven years ago. Farmer said.

The orchestra started when the school first began in 1928

Both groups have changed tremendously since their inception. "The jazz band has become one of the most popular music groups on campus," Farmer replied. "This year there were new faced in the orchestra. I hope it grows larger and larger," responded Farmer.

Sixteen members of the jazz band began each day at 7.20 in the morning practicing period one Farmer the director of the orchestral jazz band, beginning instruments, and marching hand, said

It's a good way to wake up in the morning and get on a right foot for the day

The orchestra consisted of 12 people who performed at school concerts, assemblies, and different schools

A member of the orchestra, violimist Phillip Chang, gave his reasons for joining the class. "I'm a musician I like to get the opportunity to play an instrument and have people hear my work," he said

A new idea was introduced by fearner. He planned to produce a recording of all the members of each group, on one tape, starting with the tazz band. DEBATE

"It's almost the same as being on an athletic you compete through your mind."

Passing Room 172, you may hear what sounds like an argument. However, as you listen a little closer, you realize it's only Beverly's debate students quark in over one of the many issues presented by the clim throughout the year

Approximately 75 students enrolled in either Public Speaking, an introduction to speechmaking, of Competitive Speaking, a more specialized class Both were taught by Bill Hiatt, forensics director

The team competed in several tournaments with other schools that belonged to the same league. "When not actually competing, the students work as individuals or in small groups in which they write speeches and practice their speaking skills," added Hiatt teacher at Beverly for six year.

Though Hiatt claimed that all of the students were very good competitors, some of the most active were Sean Eskovitz, Matt Levinson, Steve Fisher, Adam Fein, and Robert Rich "They go to tournaments and seem to consistently win."

commented Hight

Competitions were held locally, such as at Fairlax High School, as well as out of the Los Angeles area such as at the University of California at Berkeley Others took place at Bishop Montgomery High School Westlake School, Cal State Fullerion, and the University of Southern California

Fo many students, their experience from participating on the debate team has been very beneficial, not only in speech making, but also in subjects that require good speaking skills. "It was a lot of fun," said Robert Rich. "It belped me think logically and gave me confidence in everything I do

According to Hiatt, the students that benefit most from the program are people who are shy, "This class gives them the opportunity to become more capable in speaking in front of an audience, said Hight

Many of the students liked competing as a team, "It's like being on an athletic team, only you compete through the mind," said Rich

Overall the debate team did well during the year. They finished third in the Lincoln-Douglas Debates, and according to Hiatt, usually place first or second in the Sweepstakes category, an award given to the team with the best overall performance in a tournament.

Heatt said that the students who participate in the class, most of whom are high academic achievers, participate for the satisfaction of doing it. He added, "I like seeing my students benefit from what they are learning

"I'll do my math during English, my English during history, my history during art

This series of statements can be heard frequently throughout the halls of Beverly High. As we look at the life of a Beverly student this statement is found to be defined as procrastina lion.

Most Beverly students have many important skills they study very hard, they read, they write hut they also procrastinate

Prograstination is a way of life for the typical Beverly student. Students spend more time coning up with reasons not to do their homework than it takes to actually sit down to do the work

"Lotten find myself watching TV or talking to my parents instead of studying. In the past few years. I have realized that I'm a great artist because when I sit in front of a textbook some thing comes over me. A voice tells me to draw of double on my paper instead of study. Junior David Frank admitted

Since the beginning of time, procrastination has influenced young teens' abilities to achieve high grades (Beverly students are no exception). As the years go on, the workload increases and procrastination gets heavier, so the typical Beverly student puts off working on school work for something better to do. Television is always a better solution, or even grabbing a snack

'The night before a test 1 am often found cleaning out my room five times over instead of studying 1 tend to find myself waiting until 10 minutes before class to start studying for an exam," said sophomore Shari Rubin

A typical Beverly student goes through a metamorphosis of procrastination. First, he or she will decide that to study means death. There are so many better things to do with his young teen life than to study. Second, a student will go about deciding how he will procrastinate. Step three is to call and confer with a friend about how their procrastination is going. Next, due to all the thought process on procrastination, eating is a must to re-establish one's energy level. Holding his food in his hand a student normally heads over to the television and rests for a while. Later, the closet calls out his name just before the student sits down to do work. By this time it is late in the evening, and this Beverly student has had an exhausting day. Last step sleep This ability is special, due to the fact that he is sleep ing without a guilty conscience, and remember ing that everything that was done during the evening was necessary

Procrastination is sometimes taken on in different variations. Students are seen eating breakfast out. The average Beverly student wakes up by 7.45 a.m. and is seated at the Bagel Nosi around 8.15 a.m. While eating a bagel at the Nosh." a Beverly student debates which periods "to put off."

What are the effects of procrastination? This depends on the case. If the case is mild and the student eventually gets around to doing the work than no harm is done. If this is a chronic case o procrastination, it can be detrimental to the students academic career. The end result to the habit-forming disease is "senioritis-lazititis."

Seniors do not really procrastinate; they are merely tazy. After the replies are received from colleges, who needs to worry about school any more?" explained senior Susanne Sa to

To Beverly students, procrastination is an art and they are the Picassos of procrastination

Friedman retires as assistant principal

Beverly said goodbye to Assistant Principal Ruth Friedman as she retired after 21 years at the school

Friedman has been at Beverly since September 1965, when she acted as dean of students, a job that included being ASB advisor. The following year she became the girls' vice-principal, and shortly thereafter Friedman became an assistant principal when the current four-house system was established.

Friedman will not be retiring to an empty life. She will be on an early retirement plan, which involves working with the school district approximately 33 days a year. Meanwhile, she has a bead business which she will be able to work on and ex-

According to Principal Sof Levine, Beverly will miss her as well. "Mrs Friedman has been one of the key administrators in Beverly Hills for many years, and her retirement will be a great loss to the district."

Gridders capture Ocean League title

The varsity football team once again battled its way into the CIF playoffs. The team was coached by Dick Billingsley and Bill Stansbury. The only difference this year was that the Normans were the cochampions of the Ocean League "It is unfortunate that the team did not succeed in defeating Mission View in the CIF playoffs but we have a lot to be proud of this season," stated Coach Dick Billings-

Finishing the season 8-2-1, the Normans could attribute their success to a tenacious defense. Led by linebackers Alan Glazer, Memo Kahan, and Willie Crawford, the Normans allowed their opponents just 11 points a game and put forth three shutouts against Palisades, Inglewood, and arch-nyal Culver City. They also received strong play from defensive backs Larry Borlenghi, David Benveniste, and Michael Sutton, Seniors Travis Fine and Chad Nellis rounded out the strong and persistent defensive

The offense revolved around junior Willie Crawford, Crawford rushed for 1,167 yards and 12 touchdowns for the season. He received excellent play from his offensive line. Roni Zolotolow became a key player when starting center Evan Silver was sidelined with a fractured left hand. Assisting Zolotolow up front were semors Scott Friedman, Jason Gerchicoff, Joe Rosen, and junior Erez Gottlieb

It was important that the running game be consistent as starting quarterback Borlenghi, injured his right

Frosh, soph teams struggle in league

Judging by their overall records, one would think that the sophomore and freshman football teams lacked in ability. In reality, however, both teams had many talented players and lots of heart

Freshman Coach Len Mitchell said, "Our team had a lot of en thusiasm and they worked hard all season. The team had a lot of depth and because of this only one player was forced to start both ways."

With an overall record of 3-5, the freshman offense was led by receiver John Song, Robby Welles and taitback Danny Edwards. The main offensive lineman were John Hamner, Joshua Cohen, Rob Pehrson and Giovanni Bellasario

The top defensive players were Shahriyar Shayan, Terry Fahn and John Song

The sophomores finished with an overall record of 2-8. Receiver

Michael Glazer, tailback Nader Mousavi and quarterback Robby Sutton led the offense. The top linemen were Danny Eisenberg and Matt Ellis, Jason Jones, Roy Campanella and Korosh Soltani were the main defensive standouts

The team was coached by Bill Erickson, Vonzie Paysinger and Donald Paysinger

By far the most exciting game of the season was against Agoura With the Normans trailing 15-13, they marched 60 yards in two minutes to set up a final field goal With 30 seconds remaining. Rafael Fernandez booted a 36-yard field goal to give the Normans a 16-15 victory

Coach Vonzie Paysinger summed it up, "We were very close in most of the games; we just had some bad luck and couldn't pull them out," he said shoulder early in the year Junior Jason Goldberg was the replacement and went on to call the signals that led the Normans to their co-championship. Beverly also received excellent play from their special teams. Punter Alan Glazer averaged well over 40 yards a boot and Kicker Gary Melnik added nine field goals to help the Norman cause

The Normans entered league play on a sour note after falling to Agoura 17-14. With a record of 4-1 going into league, Beverly battled from a 14-0 deficit in their league opener against Hawthorne Craw ford rushed for over 170 yards and led Beverly to a 17-14 victory. Hot off the win over the Cougars, Craw ford ran for 208 yards and once again showed the way as the Normans defeated Mira Costa 30-24, to move to a record of 6-1 overall and 2-0 in league. After breezing by Inclewood, 28-0, the Normans were ready to battle with Santa Montea, also unbeaten in tengue. In a tough, hard fought game which was viewed by a large Beverly Homecoming crowd, the Normans trailed 7-0 at the half Wanting the league championship, the Normans came to play in the second half and the game was tied at 10-10 with just 11 seconds left When Santa Monica's 37-yard field goal attempt sailed wide to the right Beverly knew that a win over Culver would assure them a share of the league championship. A win over Culver for the fourth straight year was what the Normans cinched the co-championship. Crawford rushed for 142 yards and the Beverly defense shut down the Centaurs for the 19-0 victory. The Normans finished the regular season 8-1-1 overall and 4-0-1 in league

Unfortunately, the CIF playoffs didn't go as well as the rest of the season had. The Normans were never even in their playoffs opener against Mission Viejo as the Diablos handed Beverly a 33-3 deteat Frustrated and dejected the Norman players had hoped for a better finish to the season

Frosh-soph poloers share league title

The Ocean League season ended for the frosh-soph water polo team with a three-way tie for the championship with Mira Costa, Santa Monica. Beverly's overall record was 8-6 and 4-2 in league

Top performers included captain Arash Parsi, Josh Schechter, Sam Yu, and Alex Tourk "Ali is a good assist man, Sam is our strongest shooter," commented Parsi.

Parsi also conceded that Asher Provda was a strong offensive player as the hole man

Coach Ron Crawford affirmed that sophomore Russ Matousavich was an exceptional goalte

The two most outstanding games were with Mira Costa and Santa Monica. In the Santa Monica game Sam Yu scored three goals in a triple overtime sudden-death situation. At Mira Costa Schechter scored, two of three goals in overtime while Parsi scored the third.

"I think we have a great team a good offense and defense. Arash is a great all-around player with very strong shots," commented Schechter

Crawford concluded on a high note. "For their experience coming into the season, they were very good. They have improved throughout the year."

Varsity poloers led by Scates, Walkow

With the season ending in 2-4 in the Ocean League, the varsity water polo team lost its chance in competing in the CIF playoffs for the first time in several years

Coach Richard Douglas stated, "It was a disappointment not to make it to CIF. The team played well but in the end they didn't play enough defense. They're talented young people who worked hard and wanted to represent their league in CII

Fop players included David Scates, who scored the most goals (20), Todd Walkow (10 goals) and David Lawson (four goals); and Pric Sabre, who made 56 saves out of saves out of 151 attempted shots. Tom Young (who showed the most improvement) participated as a point man, a defensive player, and a "ball feeder."

One of the most spectacular games was the first against Mira Costa. Although Beverly lost, 9-8, the loss was in double-overtime Captain Todd Walkow ex plained, "We never played better than that. All we needed to do was polish our little mistakes from that game, , , which we didn't

Walkow said the losses were due to the lack of experience and discipline. "The team has a lot of talent It's just that we weren't disciplined enough . . . we couldn't get our minds on the game," he stated

On a higher note, Douglas remarked, "Water polo is a demanding sport In the end you'd like to think you can go to CIF, but there are obviously other rewards, too

JV teams run well in league competition

Placing well at the Ocean League finals, the boys' JV, sophomore, and freshman cross country teams, and the girls' JV team showed that hard work and dedication was worth it

The boys' JV team placed third at league finals with Pavam Minoofar, David Bronte, Scott Shapiro, Chris Roszak, and Eric Pines as Beverly's top five runners. Their times were 20-55, 21-14, 21:22, 21.24, and 21.43, and placed thirteenth, fifteenth sixteenth, seventeenth, and eighteenth, respectively

As for the boys' sophomore team, Jose Velazquez (20/29) Steve Wolf (20/32), and Greg Shephard (20:56) were Beverly's top three runners at league finals putting the sophomores at second place. Individually they placed tith, sixth, and sixteenth, respectively

affirmed, "They did a good job They pack well; the top five finished close together making them the best at grouping

The freshman boys were led by Jon Hirshberg (21:16) and Paul Hackner (23:51). Hirshberg was the No. 1 frosh runner and No. 2 sophomore runner

The JV girls' team fared well, too, at the finals taking second place. The top runners included Wendy Flaum (24 00), Elizabeth Tisherman (26 02), and Moulan Chan Randel (26 37)

It was an outstanding job taking second in the league, the loss to Mira Costa was due to a wrong turn our three top girls made on their course," said Edelman

Pines affirmed "With more training and some dedication, Beverly should definitely beat Hawthorne and take at least second"

Cross-country runs all the way to CIF

"Running the last race was like finishing the last chapter of a book. The insight gained can only help you understand the peaks and valleys of that which lies ahead." stated senior varsity boys' cross country member Mitch Carlin

Their story ended as the boys and girls varsity cross-country teams both placed third in Ocean League with an overall record of 3 2 and qualified to compete in the CIF preliminaries. The hero of the story was senior John Mora who ran above the rest as he seized second place in the CIF individual competitions in the preliminaries. This enabled him to run in the CIF finals. He is the first runner from Beverly capable of competing in the CIF finals since 1969.

But every story must have some sadness as the top three varsity boys' runners will not be returning next year. Coach Howard Edelman admits that this is unfortunate, but it gives the younger boys an opportunity to show their talents. Seniors John Mora, Tom Harp, and Mitch Carlin were the top three runners on the team. Mora captured first place for being the best runner on the team with a record-breaking time for a three-mile course of 15:09. Harp followed close behind in second place with his best time of 15:42. Finishing third was Carlin with his record time of 16:22.

The season's history is not all sadness as the varsity girls' top two runners will be remaining to compete next year. Coach Edelman stressed that the girls have im proved greatly over the past years and that he's found a tremendous amount of talent in the underclass men. He hopes these girls are a good sign for the future. Setting the pace for the varsity girls was sophomore Lisa Harris, with a time of 19:55. The second best time on the squad belonged to freshman Jamie Leeds at 20 40. The third place with a time of 20:08 belonged to senior Catherine Caulfield

The varsity teams believe that the ending chapter to their season was one of joy as well as sadness

Girls' volleyball face tough competitors

Determination This is the solitary word that can describe the girls' varsity volleyball team. Since they were matched up against such highly competitive teams as Mira Costa and Santa Monica, the team had to work particularly hard.

Their realistic goal was to place third in the Ocean League. However, Beverly lost this position to Culver City

"We haven't been as successful as in the past years. But success cannot be measured by wins and losses. Overall, the girls played to their potential and a lot of improvements were made so I think this was a successful season," said Coach Sue Normand

The team was led by many returning varsity players. MVP

Stephanie Sapper was effective in setting, outside hitting, and blocking Most Inspirational Player Patti Shin and Most Improved Player Kelly Borris proved to be valuable in their outside hitting and defensive abilities. Senior Lynne Adler showed her talents through efficient outside hitting and powerful setting. And Kathleen Foutz, as middle blocker, played an integral part in Beverly's defense. In addition, many newcomers showed potential. Junior Dana Feinberg displayed good capabilities in backcourt play. And Nannette Furlong contributed to the team's offensive attacks

Spikers set and hit their way to victory

With the close of winter and the start of spring, people hit the beaches to play volleyball

Yet, here at Beverly, this sport is more than just a game: it is a commitment and a display of six players working as one to achieve a common goal — victory

The team was composed mostly of returning seniors as only four members of the 15 man team were juniors. However, these four proved to be very beneficial to the team.

"I was impressed with the hitting and overall playing ability of the newcomers, especially Brad Ammann," stated varsity Coach Bill Smith

The team was highlighted by the playing abilities of team captain Rick Redlich (setter). Chris Peppard (setter), and hitters Jeff Mindes and Brad Ammann

"We've seen a lot of development in the team and all we've got to do now is practice and concentrate on winning," commented Redlich

The team began their pre-season by losing two of their first three matches, including a 2 3 loss to Brentwood, a 1-3 loss to St Bernard's, and a 3-1 win over St Monica's. Yet, Smith had faith in his squad

Even though the element of competition is always present in a math, the team members still find much enjoyment in the game

Jumor Jed Ricker also negated the possibility of feeling pressured because he was one of the few juniors on the team

"Everyone gets to play and has a chance to prove himself. It feels great, especially when you get a chance to really contribute something to the team," Ricker explained. He added, "And besides, next year I'll be a senior and the juniors will look to us for help."

JV girl spikers fall short of success

'The team worked hard all season and I think the record showed more inexpenence than how tal ented the girls actually were.' said the girls' JV volleyball coach Maria Weiss. The team got off to a rocky start and ended with an overall record of 3-7

Coach Weiss, a Beverly grad uate, explained, "The record isn't exemplary of the team — it does not indicate how much potential there is in these girls. But due to lack of experience, the team couldn't capitalize and win

Although all the girls participated this year, several players displayed great talent. In particular, setter Susan Rosen acted as the vocal leader on the court. Sophomore Suslan Kantor proved to be the blocking force for the team, as well as a strong offensive player. Captain Tiffany Harward was the all-around stable player. She remained consistent so the team could rely on her Evan Bloom dis played exceptional leadership as well And Cindy Heffley proved to be strong in defensive tactics. According to Weiss, tremendous improvements were made throughout the course of the sea son. Specifically, freshmen Diana Ferman and Marisol Metcalf continued to excel in sharpening their volleyball skills.

Many of the girls are ready for varsity." stressed Coach Weiss

I hope the girls will be mentally stronger because the skill level is very high

"This year we really worked hard," said sophomore Suilan Kantor, "but we also had a lot of fun. That's important too

New coach bumps JV volleyball to top

As the varsity volleyball team smashed its way to victory, the junior varsity team was working just as hard to win. Comprised of sophomores and freshmen, the players worked hard to be the best they could be

The JV spikers worked with a new coach Chris Ellis replaced Bob Craig as head coach and was "enthusiastic, excited, and challenged by the team which had a lot of potential."

The team was led by sophomores Evan Brenner. Brad Burstin, and David Karasik as outside hitter, middle hitter, and setter, respectively. Other members of the 14-player squad deserving mention were Korosh Soltani, Clark Huang, and freshman Alex Nehorai

The players immediately accepted Coach Ellis, a student at UCLA, because, as one player stated, "He's a really cool guy."

Despite a choppy beginning (a 1-2 preseason record). Ellis was optimistic about the seasons

"We're a new team, and it will take a while before the squad will come together as a unit"

At the beginning of the season the team faced a serious loss Sophomore Christian Gunn was badly injured in a car accident which kept him from playing during the season

We are going to miss him as he was a great hitter and excellent allaround player." remarked Brenner

Karasik, speaking of the team said, "A lack of enthusiasm and teamwork was a major obstacle that we had to overcome. However, when we got it together, we could challenge any team."

Varsity booters win while JV boys lose

For the past three years Steve Behrendt has coached the boys' varsity soccer team and each year the team moves up one notch closer to qualifying for the CIF playoffs. This year they placed fourth in Ocean League with an overall record of 5.9.2

Although they lost some top players from last year, seniors Memo Kahan, winner of the Most Valuable Player award, and Stanley Silver winner of the coach's award, gave the team leadership and led them to develop a very tough defense, according to Coach Behrendt Opposing teams found it difficult to score against them. Their detensive line really shone as they shut down their arch-rival, Culver City 2-1, and they shutout Hawthorne for the first time in four years, 1-0 Along with Kahan and Silver, who played all positions, Anthony Behar, John Hirschberg, Steve Fenton, Yossi Strasser, and Steve Wilheim performed well. Junior Steve Freund, an asset to the team, had the only injury as he hurt his knee. But he did return to compete in the Culver City game and received the Purple Heart Award.

The JV team, on the other hand, did not rank we in their league as they finished the season 0-5. Coach Guilliermo Becerra-Leal believes the team was really devoted but was too young and needed more training.

There were some JV booters who played a good season. Brad Harris, David Kim. Danny Corwin, and Jason Ruben led the team and Jeff Klausner was recognized as the Most Improved Player

"The guys really put out a tremendous effort, they fought very hard which can attribute to their success," stated Coach Behrendt

JV booters foul up; Varsity reach CIF

Strength and determination are what characterized the girls' varsity soccer team, I coached by Richard Billingstey

Even though the girls broke even in the Ocean League with a record of 5-4, thely still qualified to compete in the CIF Playoffs. Their first CIF game against South Formance 2-0, promised success, but they were shutout by Edison 3-0 in round two of the playoffs. They finished the season 9-8-2 overall

The reason the team advanced that far was due to some key players. Senior Katherine Caulfield and Roxanna McClendon, who played center halfback and left half back, respectively, were each awarded this season. Cauffield received an honor as first team All-League haltback and Roxanna and her sister junior Vanessa McClendon, won second team All-League halfback and forward, respectively. Caulfield and Roxanna McClendon were also named as bo-Most Valuable Players. Other girls who supplied the strength behind the team were juniors Nicole Lewis, Don Golod and Tanya O'Connor, along with sophomores Yael Levy and Tiffany Harward

The girls JV team was also coached by Billingsley, who was assisted by newcomer Coach Marla Weiss

The JV girls had a rough season finishing 2-7 overall. They showed great skill moving the vball offen sively, but their defensive line was not strong and they ended giving up an average of two goals per game Sophomore Marnie Goldman defensive halfback, was named the Most Valuable Player while fresh man Edana Tisherman, a halfback was recognized as the Most III proved Player. Sophomores Jody Katz, Rachel Nebenzahl, and Jenna Goodman played skillfully as center forward, halfback, and goalic, respectively, while newcomers Diana Ferman and Jenniter Roach performed well as winger and

Billingsley said, "I thought the girls started as a very good soccer team, but with hard work and deter mination they turned into an excellent soccer team

Cagers narrowly miss CIF playoffs

Beverly's varsity basketball team once again narrowly missed the CIF playoffs. With a win against Ingle wood in the final game of the season. Beverly would have made the playoffs for the first time since 1983. Unfortunately, they came up just short, losing the game 36-32

Coach Jack Dyck observed, "It was a great disappointment to miss the playoffs again, but we have a lot of great moments to look back on

The Normans finished the season with an overall record of 12-11 and 5.5 in the Ocean League play

The team seemed to peak in the pre-season when they finished third in the Burbank-Hoover Tournament and second in the Beverly Hills Invitational. During the Beverly tournament, senior Lincoln Sneed led Beverly to an upset, 56-51, over 5-A St. Bernard's, Sneed and Willie Crawford were named to the all tournament team for their et forts in the invitational. Derek Patton and Sneed also placed alltournament in the Burbank Hoover Tournament

The Normans were led through the season by an outstanding group of players. These included Sneed the leading scorer, averaging iust over 13 points a game and 9 rebounds. Patton, the Norman's point guard who led the team in assists: and Monroe Gordon, on defense and rebounding pulling down 7 boards a game. Other key players were Willie Crawford James Chen, and Chris Plummer.

One of the team's drawbacks was its size. They consistently had to buttle much bigger players from tough teams like Sunta Monica Hawthorne, Inglewood, and Culver

Varsity netters take league hands down

Excellence Webster defines "excellence" as the quality of being exceptionally good in its kind

The girls' varsity tennis team can be described by this word. The team finished with an overall record of 16-4, including CIF play. They advanced to the quarter-finals of CIF, losing to Corona del Mar 14-4

"They ended up being one of the top eight teams in the Southern Section, which includes about 450 high schools," exclaimed a proud Coach Susan Stevens

Why were the girls so success ful? Coach Stevens attributed their success to the fact that four girls played on varsity for four years. Therefore, they were able to main tain a high level of skill. In additional coaches, they were some statements of the statements of the statements of the statements of the statements.

tion, since all 10 girls were basically equal, they continue to be consistent throughout the season

Co-captain Jennifer Saginor and co-captain Courtenay Myers led the team. "Not only did we work as a team, but we had fun and played well," stressed Saginor

The girls' varsity tennis team remains one of the strongest teams at Beverly. This year's performance appears to have gone above and beyond even Coach Stevens' expectations

The prospect for next year looks promising as four varsity players will be returning. Juntor Jill Goldberg stated, "Although six seniors will be leaving, I am confident that we can uphold enough skills to take league again next year."

Boys JV tennis strives for success

"The JV team has been doing well; they're good enough to play varsity at other schools. They just happen to go to a school where there are better players," boasted Coach Jason Newman

The netters began the season with flying colors against Pacific Palisades with a 9-0 victory. This game showed Newman which members to pair up with whom for the best doubles results

Following Palisades was an identical score beating Dana Hills With no time or skill to spare, the learn overturned Westlake, 7-0

Newman said the top two players on the JV squad were Bob Baravarian and Michael Klein

"I'm looking for the athletes who have a good work ethic," said Newman. "If they work hard and improve throughout the year, then they have a good shot at going a good distance."

"More expenences in tournaments, commitment, and harder workouts will take the JV netters a long way," said Newman. "With so much excellence on the JV team, next year's varsity team will be a promising one."

Coach Susan Stevens remarked, "The rest of the JV team played with a variety of partners (in doubles) and played well."

In 1987, JV team members chances of making varsity are better than ever. "More JV players will become varsity next year because of the six leaving varsity players," noted Coach Stevens.

Overall the JV team played consistently strong throughout the season. The team was made up of girls that are very dedicated to tennis and work hard at it. Mara Greensweig said, "Our team worked extremely hard this year, in preparation for becoming varsity members next year. We worked well together this year in order to maintain the league championships."

New coaches, spirit revive softball team varsity girls' softball team had an impressive season winning their first four practice games, twice as many as they had in the last year's complete season

After a depressing 2-18 record the year before, the team made radical changes beating teams by big margins, such as their 28-2 victory over Santa Monica

Jack Dyck, boys' basketball coach, and Richard Schreiber cocoached the team for the first time Taking the place of Carol Hofmeister, both Dyck and Schreiber were pleasantly surprised by the enthusiasm the girls had

"I was impressed with their post tive attitude," said Dyck. "They all have incredible athletic ability and high potential."

Another change was new technique. They concentrated on aggressiveness and correction of

Contrary to previous years, the careless errors. With the help of assistant coaches, seniors David Corwin and Geoff Schafler, "the team practices and scrimmages proved beneficial for the girls' spirits and skills," said Dyck

Returning to the team were several veteran players, but the team also added several new faces many of them freshmen and sophomores

"In the next few years these young players will become great athletes and help make Beverly one of the better teams in the league Dyck predicted

Some of the strongest athletes were Tina Pirzadeh, Tiffany Harward, Jennifer Grenell, and Shawna Nagler

Dyck concluded that, ' A combination of new strategies, younger players, and strong en thusiasm is going to make the soft ball team at Beverly a great one."

The girls' gymnastics competed in the tough 4-A Bay League for the fourth consecutive year. They finished in second place last year over strong teams from Mira Costa, Palos Verdes, and Rolling Hills

New Coach Tom Masuda was assisted by sponsor Margaret Leeds in preparing the girls for competition. Masuda, a former coach for the KIPS gymnastics team, faced many obstacles when he took over coaching gymnastics at Beverly One was that "this was the largest number of girls we've fielded on the team, we took in 10 freshman, the most ever," said Leeds

The team competed in floor exercise, vault, balance beam, and the uneven bars. There were three girls who competed all-around. They were senior Laura Hornwood sophomore Sandra Schwartz, and freshman Alida Ramzi. Strong additions to the team were Paige Patman, Sophia Rumanes, and Stephanie Sapper

It was a rebuilding year for the gymnastic team. The team lost many strong seniors from last year's team, but there is potential for the future. Coach Masuda noted, "it's a challenge for me to coach a different level than I'm used to, but it's a strong team that I hope will do well in league competition."

Co-captains Hornwood and Sapper observed, "We've worked hard on the team for four years, put in a lot of team effort, and we hope to have a strong, exciting season

Band, drill teams spice up half times

Question: What is orange and black, has 200 arms and legs, and entertains the crowd at half time?

Answer: The Beverly Hills High School marching band and drill team

Leading the 60-member march ing band was drum major Chris Dawson Assistant drum majors were Caitlin O'Neill and Theresa Herron

Director Richard Farmer was very pleased with the band's performance "There were many new members this year, they did an excellent job. The entire group was very spirited and I am very happy to work with them," said Farmer

Fhroughout the year the band performed many popular pop songs and television themes. During the homecoming game, "How Will I Know" by Whitney Houston, "Tequila" and "High Kick" were played

To accompany the band was the drill team, under the supervision of Dixie Zovak. This group of 50 enthusiastic girls cheered like gangbusters at the football and basketball games. The captains were Sheitah Hudson. Noelle Kuroko and Mary Mau

Besides football games, the two groups performed elsewhere For example, Disneyland, Knotts Berry Farm and the Beverly Hills 51 Patrick's Day Parade were among the performing sites

Assistant drum major Caitlin O'Neill summed it up, ''It took a lot of time and work, but it all payed off in the end ''

Cheerleaders jump into a spirited year through football and basketball season again under the leadership of a new coach.

Alix Plum was a drill team coach, but never a spirit coach until coming to Beverly in 1986. She led. varsity yell, song, flag, and JV yell through both seasons. "I have never been given as much respect as I've been given here, without having to earn it," commented coach Plum about the spirit team,

The four individual squads were led by Kelly Johnson, varsity yell; Monica Holmes and Jeni Lytton, song; Porshia Turneer, flag; and Alexis Christensen, JV yell.

An added bonus to spirit this year were the many extra activities the girls participated in. Some activities were spirit competitions that

The spirit team of 1987 cheered began in November, where the team competed against other high schools, and went through the spring semester. Another activity was the traditional kidnapping of the football players. Finally, the varsity yell cheerleaders held a special pep rally at the KHS FM radio station

> Co-song leader Lytton said about the overall feeling towards spirit, "This year, we've tried to promote more spirit for the teams because ultimately they're the ones who need it."

> Coach Plum felt that 1987 was very successful and enjoyable for her first year coaching and the seniors last year. She noted, "The girls were very spirited, responsible and talented, they were really a pleasure to work with

The Company leaps into another year

The Advanced Dance Theater Group, otherwise known as the Company, once again danced through another year. Led by a variety of dancers, The Company held their annual concert April 30, May 1 and 2

'The Company featured dancers strong in their individual styles of modern and jazz dance," remarked director Janet Roston. Nine seniors led Advanced Dance. They included Edet Belzberg, Monica Doby Theresa Herron, Monica Holmes Rochelle Johnson, Sima Mohama dian, Dean Shapiro, Nicole Triplett, and Sarah Vyden. For them the 1987 dance concert was their "finale" for years of hard work on Advanced Dance

Men also contributed greatly to the Company's concert. They contributed not only as dancers, but also choreographed dances for the show. Dancer/ choreographer Shapiro said, "The Advanced Dance concert is a great expenence. The friendships of the Company, the thrill of performing, and the given freedom to create and experiment for choreography are experiences I'll never forget."

The many different pieces performed in the concert were choreographed mainly by students They were Edet Belzberg, Joel Christensen, Joanna Elliott, Joanna Greenberg, Alexis Holz, Rochelle Johnson, Grace Moon, Dean Shapiro, and Nicole Triplett There was also a piece done by guest choreographer Larry Hyman; director Roston choreographed the

The finale was extra special this year because of the added effect of black light. "The finale, utilizing black light was a cross between a dream-like quality and a late night rock club." said Roston

The 1987 Company was a combination of many new members and many returning members Director Roston noted, "This years Company brought an innovative approach to choreography while the dance were energetic, powerful, and dynamic

AN ODE TO A PAL By Jode and Kal

The whole thing started one foggy day, When we both met, and our troubles went away To tell you the truth, they had only begun, But what did we care? We were looking for fun School started, we did so many things D(3) and J(3) kept our minds busy We so dwelled on them, it often made us "disty Summer arrived, and Jodi was off. To Israel and street Dizengoff Kallen was home, and just as we feared, Our young little friend was getting real weird School started again, but now we could drive. And our cute little two turned into five This didn't work out, our troubles were more. So our cute little five turned into a four But now we were stressed, we needed a break, A Maia vacation is what we would take "Spimoni," "Zacky," "stoke, rad, dude!" Sick, game about food Now Kallen was screaming, "Hip, hip, hooray" She had won her freedom on her birthday In the red 'Stang, off we would fleet To Mary's, the Dodgers, and the bird streets We often would talk like giggly airheads, At the park, Nibblers, and in "waterbeds." Our buddy Big Kells was always up for a flick, Movies just ain't the same without this cool chick The times got hard, pool Kallen would lose, Because of her "pass" and the blues. Jodi cried too, we must confess, Due to A P 's and "zestlessness." When school ended we unclipped our wings We went to parties, the beach, and Palm Springs This marks the end of our cute little four, Due to a "marriage," and a whole lot more Those two little seedlings had caused so much trouble, Yet somehow they'd managed to make our fun "double." Bruce, Arvell, Coolers, and S.B. $500, squeal, bizarre, We have stuck through it all, And will continue to stick Ahat, Shta'ım, shalosh, Aaah, goodbye, click

ALOHA!

It was a lazy summer day. I was walking along the street, dazed by the afternoon sun. An old woman sat by the grass selling flowers. I noticed a single pink rose laying in a straw basket. Gently I picked it up, bought it, and quickly brought it home. I put my rose in a delicate antique vase and placed it on the window sill. It glowed against the colors of the sunset. Everyday it grew toward the sky, reaching for the stars. My life began to change. There was more love and more happiness. There were more smiles . . . I still have my perfect rose. It will be with me forever Thanks for your love len, Thanks for being my best friend.

Where does the traveler go now? If he is a senior and has graduated, then he continues on the path to higher education or begins a new road on the way to a career. What if the traveler is a freshman, sophomore, or junior and must continue to explore the avenues of Beverly? He finds himself going in the right direction towards the ultimate goal of graduation

The choices made along the way by students will lead each individual to a different destination. The results of these decisions will prove that Beverly students are going places.
